

Would you like to help us understand how to support people leaving prison and families who want to be smokefree or make their homes smokefree?

Scottish prisons have been smokefree since 2018. We'd like to hear from families in Scotland affected by imprisonment to:

- find out what families think about smokefree prisons.
- understand the challenges people and families face when moving back into the community.
- find out what might work to help people leaving prison and families who want to be smokefree or make their homes smokefree.

What will happen if I take part?

- Taking part will involve doing a one-to-one interview with a researcher lasting up to 45 minutes. These will usually be on the phone or online.
- If you would prefer to take part in a group discussion with other people who have a family member in prison, please let us know and we will see if this possible.
- You will be offered a £20 voucher for taking part.
- The study is independent of the Scottish Government, Scottish Prison Service and NHS.
